Come celebrate the friendships, accomplishments, and special memories of the faculty and staff that, over the years from inception, have provided a foundation for the achievements of many graduates of DHS. To date, nineteen Wildcat graduates have returned to Dunwoody to teach!

Forty-five years ago in 1972, Dunwoody High School was built on the outskirts of Atlanta to serve a growing suburban population, first enrolling students in grades 8, 9, and 10. The Wildcat became the mascot and the colors were crimson & gold. Dunwoody High School and Peachtree High School merged in 1988, with Dunwoody remaining as the high school and Peachtree becoming the middle school. After much debate, Dunwoody acquired Peachtree's colors of red, white & blue. The two schools merged seamlessly and established the tone of cooperation and excellence that would follow throughout the years.

"Once A Wildcat, Always A Wildcat" has been our theme and doing things the Wildcat Way has become a tradition. Dunwoody High School is part of a strong community with a focus on ensuring the success of all students, enabling them to become lifelong learners, and to be productive members of an increasingly diverse society.
